PIONEERING: A computer-generated image of the Anderson NAS School

FIRST FULL-TIME AUTISM SCHOOL

By Michael Cox

waltham@yellowad.co.uk

THE FIRST purpose-built school for autism in the world has been given the go-ahead in east London.

The Anderson NAS School will be based in Chigwell and cater for students aged four to 25 – the first time children and adults have been accommodated in the same teaching complex.

Under existing teaching programmes only 15 per cent of people with autism achieve employment.

The Anderson Foundation, the charitable arm of construction company the Anderson Group, and the National Autistic Society aim to improve that employment rate significantly.

Plans were approved in December by Epping Forest District Council and the school will be in Luxborough Lane, which was previously the training ground for Tottenham Hotspur FC.

It will cost around £10million to build and is due to be completed in September 2016.

Andrew Jay, managing director of the Anderson Group, said: "It is something that we are passionate about. We really feel like we could make a difference with this.

"We have a good number of staff with children who have autism and it really does touch a lot of people's lives."

According to Mr Jay, there are no specialist provisions for autism education in Essex and he hoped that this new school would help to initiate more specialist schools in the area.

He is confident that both adults and children would benefit from the progress they would make through the school.

There will be 128 places open to children and young adults between the ages of four and 25, with the aim for those from the south west quadrant of Essex to attend.

The school will have classrooms, communal areas, sports space and overnight accommodation, and it includes a separate young adults' centre, for those aged between 18 and 25.

The Anderson Group has worked with the NAS for eight years and opened a school with them in Bristol in 2012.

'Bed in shed' defeat

A LANDLORD who appealed against a Waltham Forest Council enforcement notice demanding her "bed in a shed" outbuilding be torn down has had her bid dismissed by a planning inspector.

Abida Shafique, who owns a property in Liverpool Road, Leyton, where the building was seen by council officers, sought to use the unauthorised building for residential accommodation without planning permission.

Bid to eliminate TB

PUBLIC Health England has announced an £11.5million programme to eliminate tuberculosis in London.

England saw 7,290 cases of TB in 2013 and 2,985 of these were reported in London – one of the highest rates in Western Europe.

Council plans redundancies

By Michael Cox

waltham@yellowad.co.uk

REDUNDANCIES have been announced at Redbridge Council.

The authority said it plans to cut £36m in the next seven months.

A third of management staff will be removed by the end of 2015 and recruitment will be frozen, a move that the council described as unfortunate but unavoidable.

The cuts have been revealed as part of the 2015/16 budget, which outlines that the council will have to save a total of £70m before 2017/18 to make up for a £100m reduction in government funding by 2018.

Despite the scale of the savings required, council tax will be frozen for a sixth successive year, while basic services such as street lighting and refuse collections are being maintained.

Leader of the council Jas Athwal said: "The level of the cuts we face is beyond anything that has come before and we will do everything we can to meet this challenge head on."

Cllr Athwal was adamant that frontline services would be protected despite all the savings that had to be made.

The council also aims to continue investing in certain areas, with £2.6m being spent on adult social services.

Hospital's past comes under the spotlight

THE HISTORY of Whips Cross War Hospital has been investigated at a reminiscence session in Leyton.

Eastside Community Heritage ran the event, where people with a personal connection to the hospital were encouraged to go to Leyton Library and find out more.

It is the first of four sessions that will be held across Waltham Forest, after two took place at the current Whips Cross University Hospital in November to mark the centenary of the Great War.

Project worker Simon Buck said: "We have collected some fascinating stories about often traumatising experiences.

"But what is interesting is that the descendants really get an experience with this and can connect with experiences that they knew nothing about before."

Before the First World War, Whips Cross had been known as the West Ham Union Infirmary, and it was an over-crowded institution.

The war changed its role though and about 6,000 soldiers were cared for there during the course of the conflict.

Royalty also visited Whips Cross in 1917, when King George V and Queen Mary came to see the patients. It was around this time that it was officially renamed Whips Cross Hospital.

With many stories from wartime, Mr Buck thinks that these sessions provide people with the ideal chance to remember the vital role that those at the hospital played.

He said: "It is just as important for people to learn about the nurses and doctors who worked to care for the soldiers."

The Whips Cross project will conclude with a final exhibition in May, with the next reminiscence session being held at Hale End Library on February 13.

Liberty Housing to benefit residents

A LETTINGS agency has opened to help tenants shut out of the rental market.

Liberty Housing opened its doors on Tuesday in High Street, Hornchurch.

In some cases, the council-run agency will help out financially paying upfront deposits and other costs for those who need it.

Staff will help those looking for a property of their own by giving advice about shared ownership schemes, debt and budgeting.

Council bosses said landlords joining the council-run scheme can benefit from no hidden service charges, payment of tenant deposits by the council, free gas checks, some free repairs, and a dedicated team of council housing officers who will manage the tenancies on a day-to-day basis.

Staff said they hope by encouraging more landlords to sign up to the scheme they can create more opportunities for people struggling to access high-quality private rented accommodation.

HELPING OUT: The team at Liberty Housing in Hornchurch

Harvering Council's deputy leader and cabinet member for housing, Cllr Damian White, said: "Liberty Housing is our way of giving potential landlords greater peace of mind when letting out their properties.

"We're experts in housing so we can manage tenancies directly while also offering guaranteed market rents and some free repairs.

"But Liberty Housing is a good deal for tenants too as we can offer face to face advice and support on all matters from debts and budgeting to shared ownership.

"The council's good work with private landlords was featured by the BBC's Panorama programme this year," he added.

Landlords given boost by council letting agency

LANDLORD: Pamela Browne

MUM of one, Pamela Browne, 39, is not your usual landlord.

Having let her property through Harvering Council's letting agency, Liberty Housing for seven years, she has been able to juggle a job in finance in central London with her young family.

With a little girl in tow, Pamela, from Romford, found that letting through commercial agents ended up being hard work.

She said: "I bought my first property when I was 19 and then decided to travel the world. I rented it out privately and then when I came back, my partner and I decided to buy a home of our own and continue to let our properties.

"Tenants would find my number and contact me directly. Once the agency have got their finder's fee that was it. I heard about the council scheme through a friend and I've been renting my property through them for the last seven years."

With the volatile housing market, Pamela is sitting tight on her property. She added: "For people who can't sell, letting is a good way of securing your future.

"Though I waver from wanting to sell and staying put, at the moment this is a good choice."

Gang jailed for armed crime spree

A TEENAGE boy and a woman both from Dagenham were part of a gang jailed for committing violent disorder while armed with firearms in the town.

The boy, who was 16, was sentenced to 18 months for firearms offences and violent disorder.

Anne-Marie Madden, 25, of Woodward Road, was given three years in jail for firearms offences, violent disorder and possession of drugs.

They were involved with two other men, Scott Stokes, 20, of Rose Lane, Romford and his brother Jason, 18, of the same road. They were both sentenced to three years and six months for violent disorder and firearms offences.

Snaresbrook Crown Court was told how the gang committed two acts of violent disorder using loaded handguns in Dagenham on Sunday, December 22, 2013.

They fired at residential windows to frighten people that they had grievances with.

All the properties involved were occupied and each one had its lights on and the curtains drawn.

The judge said in court that it was only out of "good fortune that serious injury had not been caused", as there was no way of telling that there was anyone inside the properties at the time that the shots were fired.

The gang members threw their guns away from a car they were in shortly before they were arrested.

All four were convicted on January 16 following a two-week trial.

A SCHOOL has become involved in a campaign to have a mammoth's head brought to Ilford.

Pupils at Fullwood Primary School in Burford Close, Ilford, will participate in a mammoth quiz as part of a campaign to have a replica of the mammoth skull, known as Monty, installed in Ilford town centre.

The real skull is currently one of the artefacts at the Natural History Museum and is the only complete mammoth skull found in Britain.

The East Ilford Betterment Partnership outlined its plans in an assembly at the school, where Hannah Chowdhry, 10, explained how a visit to the museum led her to challenge her father Wilson to bring the skull back to Ilford.

Mr Chowdhry, who is the campaign's project manager, said: "This ancient relic is one of the most fascinating and yet unknown facts about the borough.

"Our borough has failed to recognise the potential to raise the profile of our small and much deprived town through embracing our earliest known resident."

A sum of £15,000 needs to be raised for the project, which has been given a five-year target for completion.

Mr Chowdhry hopes that other schools in the area will join in with the fundraising and support the campaign, known as Bring Monty Home.

Man suffocated after smashing his nose in a fall

A MAN from Manor Park died after collapsing in the bathroom, an inquest heard.

Paul Smith, 53, of Sixth Avenue, was found dead on June 4 last year after falling from the toilet and smashing his nose.

Walthamstow Coroner's Court was told his stepson Frankie Cade described him as a sociable, trusting and helpful man.

Mr Smith was discovered lying in his bathroom by a friend, Michael Warburton, who was passing by his address.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by paramedics.

Dr Ian Calder, a pathologist, explained to the hearing that the position in which Mr Smith fell meant that with the damage to his nose he could not breathe.

The cause of death was given as postural asphyxia.

The reason for Mr Smith's collapse was not known although Dr Calder suspected that it may have been down to the fact that he had an enlarged heart.

The inquest was told Mr Smith was unemployed and had previously suffered from alcoholism, although he had successfully completed a detox programme and alcohol did not play a part in his death.

Coroner Ian Wade described the death as a tragic accident which could not have been prevented.

He agreed with the cause of death from the post-mortem examination and ruled that it would be described as an accident.

HAMMERS TAME TIGERS AT HOME

West Ham United

West Ham United 3 Hull City 0

Brian Jeeves reporting from Upton Park

IT was a classic case of a game of two halves as goals after the break from Andy Carroll, Morgan Amalfitano and Stewart Downing earned West Ham United three priceless Barclays Premier League points against struggling Hull City at Upton Park.

West Ham hadn't tasted a league victory since Leicester City's visit to east London just before Christmas.

But buoyed by their midweek cup exploits against Everton, Sam Allardyce viewed this as a perfect opportunity to pick up three points.

Hull boss Steve Bruce had been dealing with a lengthy injury list coupled with a dip in form that had seen last season's FA Cup finalists slip into the bottom three.

But on a crisp east London afternoon it was Hull who started the brighter. Sone Aluko picked out an unmarked Ahmed Elmohamady, only for the winger to pull his effort horribly off target with the goal at his mercy.

At the other end, Aaron Cresswell's dead ball attempt had Scottish international goalkeeper Allan McGregor scrambling across his goal, but fizzed just past an upright.

West Ham looked off-colour, with passes going astray and tackles mist-imed. The Hammers' continued to toil, Carroll picked out Enner Valencia from the left, but a desperate challenge from Curtis Davies denied the Ecuadorian frontman. From the resulting flag-kick James Tomkins's header landed on the roof of the net.

But with live wire Aluko looking in the mood, Hull continued to look more meaningful but without finding any end product.

The insipid nature of the contest continued with Hull comfortably soaking up any pressure from the home side, then threatening on the counter.

On one such raid Hammers defender James Collins had to be alert to snub out Aluko, after the Nigerian international nipped in behind a static rear-guard.

As the half wore on West Ham came desperately close to grabbing the advantage. Valencia's close range header came back off the bar and in the melee that followed McGregor clung on bravely after Tomkins had returned the ball goalwards.

But that aside there was very little in the way of goalmouth action.

After the break West Ham immediately passed up a glorious opportunity when Kevin Nolan fired over after Downing had centred.

Nevertheless whatever Allardyce had put in the half-time cuppa, it had the desired effect as McGregor spilled Valencia's stinging effort and Carroll was on hand to finish off.

There was now an altogether more relaxed atmosphere around Upton Park with the home side looking to put the game out of the visitors' reach. Valencia should have done better, hitting the side netting after latching on to some loose defending from Michael Dawson.

But Hull couldn't hold out. Substitute Amalfitano doubled the Hammers' advantage, beating McGregor from close range.

West Ham were now thoroughly enjoying their afternoon, and it was no great surprise when they added a third. Downing raced on to Alex Song's pinpoint pass before dispatching beyond McGregor to put the outcome beyond reasonable doubt.

Hull had capitulated and it was almost four-nil when Nolan slapped the face of the bar from what seemed an impossible angle.

In the dying minutes former Spurs man Tom Huddlestone, was wayward as the Tigers looked for a consolation, but with Premier League survival now looking a tall order, this was an afternoon Hull and their small band of travelling fans will want to put behind them quickly.

West Ham remain seventh in the Premier League, four points off the Champions League places.

Afterwards, Allardyce said: "Our efforts on Tuesday night left us a little bit lethargic. But changing the system in the second half and playing with a more positive attitude and passing the ball forward quicker paid off in the end."

He continued: "For me the biggest thing is the clean sheet. We've been talking about clean sheets for the past five or six weeks and how many we haven't got that we should have."

Hull boss Bruce was a forlorn figure, saying: "The second half was awful. There wasn't much wrong in the first half."

"They're all bitterly disappointed. You look around and see so many people injured. We've had to make two changes at half-time when we're already makeshift, and we struggled."

West Ham now turn their attention to the FA Cup fourth round tie with Bristol City at Ashton Gate on Sunday, kick-off 2pm.

West Ham United: Adrian, Aaron Cresswell, Kevin Nolan, James Tomkins (Joey O'Brien), Andy Carroll, Stewart Downing, Mark Noble (Morgan Amalfitano), Carl Jenkinson, James Collins (Winston Reid), Alex Song, Enner Valencia. Subs: Jussi Jaaskelainen, Matt Jarvis, Diego Poyet, Carlton Cole.

Referee: Martin Atkinson.

Assistants: S Childs and H Leonard.

Fourth Official: Lee Mason.

Attendance: 34,914.

Non-league round-up

Conference clubs suffer

by Brian Jeeves

IT was an uncomfortable weekend for followers of the region's Vanarama Conference clubs with Braintree Town, Concord Rangers and Chelmsford City all crashing to disappointing defeats.

In the Premier Division Braintree went down 2-1 against a strong Forest Green Rovers outfit at Cressing Road.

Journeyman striker Jon Parkin grabbed a brace for Rovers, while Sean Marks found the net for the hosts.

And it was equally frustrating for our Conference South teams. Malcolm and Frendo found the net as St Albans City grabbed a 2-0 win over Concord Rangers, while Chelmsford City went down 4-2 at Wealdstone. Corcoran, Godfrey, Cronin and Ball scored for the homesters, Michael Cheek and Rob Girdlestone on target for the exasperated Clares.

In the Ryman Premier League, East Thurrock United's Sam Higgins reached a notable milestone during their 1-0 triumph over Leiston. Higgins' winning goal was his 150th for the club. The result lifted the Rocks into fifth place in the table, nine points behind leaders Maidstone United.

Billericay Town were also among the goals, clinching a 2-0 win over Leatherhead at New Lodge, but it wasn't such good news for Grays Athletic and AFC Hornchurch.

Dumebi Dumaka was the Grays marksman at home to Lewes, but strikes from Leroy Griffiths, Nicky Wheeler and Elliott Roman ensured the points headed south. Hornchurch went down 2-0 at leaders Maidstone United. Steve Watt and Frannie Collin scored for the Stones in front of a bumper crowd of 2,086.

Redbridge lit the way in Division One North, hammering Chatham Town 4-1, while Emiel Aken's late strike earned Tilbury a single goal victory over Romford.

Jordan Darko fired Thurrock ahead in their clash with Cheshunt, only for Mitch Hahn to snatch a late leveller for the visitors. And there was drama at Heybridge Swifts where Aveley went down by the odd goal in seven. Billy Holland, Junior Baker and Petrit Elbi were on target for the plucky losers.

Maldon & Tiptree went down 1-0 at AFC Sudbury, and Burnham Ramblers continued to struggle, crashing 2-0 to Dereham Town at Leslie Field.

Pick of the Essex Senior League action saw Bowers & Pitsea win an extraordinary game at second placed FC Romania 8-0.

Newham also found goals easy to come by, beating Takeley 5-2, while London Bari hit four past struggling Southend Manor, eventually winning 4-1.

Clapton continued to push for a high finish, their latest success a 2-1 win at Eton Manor. Elsewhere Barking replaced FC Romania in second after a single goal saw off Sporting Bengal United.

Hullbridge Sports' brave FA Vase run came to an end after a 3-0 defeat at Flackwell Heath, nevertheless, Sports can be rightly proud of their exploits in the competition.

Highlights in the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League saw Hannikins Farm hit seven goals without reply in their Premier Division match at Manford Way, while in Division Three Upminster went one better, thrashing Southend Sports 8-0.

Draw is a point gained for battling O's

Leyton Orient

Preston North End 2

Leyton Orient 2

By Rowland Lyons at Deepdale
LEYTON Orient gained a battling point in their Sky Bet League One survival battle before TV cameras on Friday evening in a frozen Lancashire.

David Mooney fired the O's ahead, before North End appeared to be heading towards a much-needed win, courtesy of a Jermaine Beckford header and Paul Gallagher's penalty, before top scorer, Chris Dagnall sent the travelling support home happy.

Mooney – operating at the top of the diamond formation – took advantage of a sixth minute defensive slip and fired home with a powerful low drive that beat unsighted loan keeper Sam Johnstone.

The Orient goal then came under intense pressure with Gary Woods outstanding, until 23 minutes when former Leeds hitman Beckford rose unchallenged to guide home Gallagher's set piece.

North End then took charge, with Beckford and Kyel Reid close to putting the Lilywhites ahead.

But on a breakaway, fit-again

Kevin Lisbie wasted a 35th minute half-chance missing his kick with only Johnstone to beat from the edge of the box – much to the home crowd's derision – before Mooney could only shoot straight at the keeper on the stroke of half-time.

After the interval Preston again dominated, but the east Londoners restricted their hosts to long-distance efforts, although the industrious Reid blasted wide when well-placed.

But the O's appeared to have shot themselves in the foot when Scott Cuthbert clumsily tripped Reid in the box with more than 20 minutes left. Gallagher gave Woods no chance from the spot-kick driven through the centre of the goal.

Orient had other ideas and patient build-up play bore fruit on 78 minutes when Gary Sawyer's cross was cleverly headed back by sub Gianvito Plasmati finding Dagnall, who in turn beat Johnstone with a smart, first-time right-footed curler.

The east Londoners then held out, with Woods denying the ever-dangerous Beckford in the closing stages, to leave assistant boss Mauro Donatelli admitting: "We have done very well to get a point against a side that are technically gifted and very physical.

"We know it hasn't been the best of seasons, but we are working as hard as we can. But, we shut out

But, we played a good game and defended well.

"We scored two very good goals; the first came from the midfield and from outside the box and the second came from some very good play – and a brilliant finish."

Fit-again captain Nathan Clarke added: "The aim was to try and find the gaps and get the ball as much as possible to David Mooney."

"We can take positives from tonight, especially with people coming on and we can now look forward to the next game. Bringing on experienced players at the end made us nice and solid – but, obviously we were disappointed with the goals."

"It was great to take the captain's armband and play against my brother – that doesn't happen very often – and you don't realise what it meant to the family."

Clarke concluded: "The fans were great tonight – and they cheered us on. There were fans having to leave work early after the game was switched to Friday night. It hits hard on the pockets travelling all those miles."

"We know it hasn't been the best of seasons, but we are working as hard as we can. But, we shut out Bristol City and not many teams go to Yeovil and win – although we were expected to go and win. They were stand-out performances. But, today, we felt we could stifle them."

Goalscorer Mooney, revealed: "We had been working on the diamond formation in training and shooting from outside the area. But, I really enjoyed playing that position and the boys made good runs and created space. If I keep playing in this position, I'll only get better."

"I thought the defence was excellent, mainly keeping them down to shots outside the box and few chances."

"I thought we deserved the point. The mood [in the squad] is good. We just need to stay focused and hopefully get more rub of the green."

Orient travel to fellow strugglers, Colchester United on Saturday (kick-off 3pm).

Attendance: 8,555.
